

Episode 4 The BB Guys

Introduction.

Man's voice: Have you taken care of our guest? Is he equipped already?

Woman's voice: Not yet. I'm just going to do it.

1: Car Chase

Gina: I never would have imagined it was going to be that difficult finding the outback. I think we're lost. How long have we been driving?

Tom: Getting on for five about hours now. Mind you, we probably would have arrived by now if I hadn't missed that turning coming out of Sidney.

Gina: I think you can blame your navigator for that. I hadn't even bothered to look at the map.

Tom: What's that over there ?

Gina: Yes, this is it. Beautiful Babes Health Farm.

Tom: He'll be hidden away from the other guests for security reasons.

Vera: Hurry up!

Tom: Ben!

Gina: Ben? Are you ok?

Vera: Bastards! You're such a jerk! I'm going to have to call the boss now. The cat is out of the bag. I repeat: the cat is out!

The Boss: You bunch of fools! Didn't I tell you to bug that dirty muck-raker. Get on the radio and follow him, carefully! Move!

Vera: Shit! Fuck! Get out, son of a bitch! Didn't your mother ever tell you you should run away from danger? Right now! Come on, jump in the car! Faster!

Tom: Thank god you're safe!

Ben: Who sent you? Max? What about Beautiful Babes?

Gina: Modelling is just a cover story.

Tom: We found out a lot about Beautiful Babes.

Ben: I found a strange list with children's names on it.

Gina: And we discovered that a team of scientists was carrying out genetic experiments in Nairobi. And now the technique is perfected, they're using it to produce the babies that people want. I mean, you know, intelligent, good-looking, whatever.

Ben: Motherhood and modelling don't usually go together.

Tom: That's what I thought was strange.

Ben: When I met Foley, I didn't get much out of him, except his ambition was to design the future.

Tom: What's that car? They're driving a little bit too fast. Do you think it's them? The B.B. guys?

Gina: No way, not in that car!

Vera: Switch it off, dammit! What are you doing? Take your gun and shoot them!